CONTRIBUTIONS ARE MADE TO SCHOOLSStatement Issued By Officials Explains
the NecessityMAY BE OTHERS
WHO WILL GIVESchools Still in Need of Equipment Say
Authorities

Some public spirited citizens already have made donations for equipments of the new high school buildings and their names will be made public soon, but there may be others who would like to make contributions, according to the following letter made public today:

It often happens that persons of a philanthropic turn of mind with the means in hand to carry out their generous purposes, are at a loss to select worthy objects for their philanthropy. It so happens that never before in the history of this city and of its size, have so many worthy causes presented themselves for consideration, particularly in the field of education.

Two splendid new high school buildings are nearing completion. The public has responded most generously in providing these buildings issuing bonds for their erection, but much remains to be done. These thoughts are suggested by the fact that very recently large-hearted citizens, by personal donations have offered to equip the model dining room of the domestic art department in the Central high school; others are furnishing the teachers' rest room in the same school, and a single donor will equip the great chemical laboratory. The names of these public-spirited citizens will be announced in due time, and their good deeds recorded in a permanent way.

Are these all the causes that appeal to the liberality of individuals, or groups of individuals? By no means. I will mention several more cases equally as worthy, and presenting opportunities to the liberal minded, to confer lasting benefits on the young people of the city and win the gratitude of an appreciative public.

This is a partial list:
Library books in both schools, also library equipment in Central High. Sewing machines in the domestic arts department, both high schools. Cooking utensils in the domestic department, both schools. Furnishing of teachers' rest room, Decatur high school. Equipment for cafeteria, both schools. Electric lighting fixtures in the gymnasium, Central high. Gymnasium equipment in both high schools. New pianos, both schools. Equipment for commercial department, both schools. Kindergarten equipment for both schools. Lockers for Central high. Manual athletic field for Central high. Manual training equipment. Moving picture machines and outfit for both schools.

If every one of these needs were met by donations there would still be a good use for very dollar of the bond funds available. The school authorities would not be embarrassed in finding a good way of expending any balance they may have from the bond issues to meet the expanding demands of the school system. In the case of the last Albany bond issue, it will be remembered, the bonds have never been sold.

I mention the above causes, as stated at the beginning of this letter, so that persons who are generously disposed may not lack worthy objects for their beneficence in education, and some people are glad to have their attention called to them. A few days ago, I called to the attention of this head of a certain patriotic organization to fly our country's flag. He immediately responded that his organization wanted to have a part in that patriotic work.

I dare not hope that all or even a large part of these educational needs will be met with sufficient strength to secure private donations, but may be some one, or more of them, will touch the heart and loosen the purse strings of people with means to do these big things. Rockefeller could give his $35,000,000 to the University of Chicago. People of the South, alas, cannot give such high sums to any institution, but we can, at least, get the habit of giving according to our means.

W. W. Benson, Superintendent
We endorse the above suggestions, and commend the causes enumerated as worthy of the liberality of persons who can endow them.

IS COMPLETEDLast Signature Given Papers in Transfer of the Interests

The last one of the legal papers in the transfer of the theater interests here, from H. B. Cagle and his associates to Sudekum Brothers, of Nashville, was signed late yesterday, it was announced by C. H. Eyster, attorney for Sudekum brothers, this morning.

The deal was closed some two weeks ago as announced at that time and only the formality of getting in personal touch with each and every one of the stockholders of the Cagle company remained. As some of the former stockholders in the local theaters lived out of town, while they had given their consent to the sale, it required some time to get their signatures attached to the deeds of transfer.

It was announced by A. R. McRae Wednesday morning, that following the performance at the Princess theater Saturday night that playhouse would be closed until the latter part of November and Mr. McRae stated that the Princess would be thoroughly overhauled, rearranged, refurnished and repainted by the time of the opening near the close of November.

When the Princess theater opens again, first run pictures of the latest and most approved selection will be used, and an orchestra will play each night.

Until the Princess is ready for its reopening, the pictures usually shown there will be exhibited at the Masonic theater beginning Monday evening.

FORMER DIPLOMAT
DIVORCE WITNESS

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Horace G. Knowles, formerly in the diplomatic service of the United States in Roumania, Bulgaria, Bolivia, Peru, today testified at the trial of W. E. D. Stokes suit for divorce against his wife Helen. Helen run pictures of the latest and most approved selection will be used, and an orchestra will play each night.

Knowles, now a practicing lawyer, said he knew Wallace and that in 1914 he had visited a man with whom Wallace shared an apartment in 35th street. Asked whether he saw Mrs. Stokes there, after the dependent had been pointed out to him in the courtroom he replied:

"To the best of my belief and knowledge I did see her on the stairs leading to the apartment and in company with Wallace."

Clarence A. Smith, process server, and Charles Murphy, deputy sheriff, told of having made frequent and unsuccessful visits to the tea room in the house where Wallace had his apartments in an attempt to serve a subpoena on Mrs. Mary McNulty, head waitress of the tea room.

Justice Mahoney reserved decision on a motion of Samuel Untermyer, chief counsel for defense, to strike from the record testimony of Smith and Murphy.

It was stated at the union depot this morning that for the first time in the history of its existence the Pan-American train stopped at Athens this morning so as to let the members of the public service commission leave the train there.

In addition to the addresses expected from Messrs. Patterson, Lee and Morgan at the rooms of the chamber of commerce this evening, an address is also to be made on the value of advertising at the meeting by Wilson-Lawrenson, vice president of the advertising association of the world.

DRIVE IS LAUNCHED
TO DRY UP GOTHAM

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—United States Attorney Haywood today filed 54 injunctions in common nuisance suits in federal court, under the Volstead act, to close alleged wet saloons, cafes, restaurants, cabarets in this city.

The names of the places were not available this morning as the complaint in the various cases had not been filed. The evidence on which the suits are based was obtained by Assistant United States Attorney James H. Clark.

Speaking of the Federal Government's latest effort to make New York dry, Mr. Haywood said:

"I have filed this morning 54 injunction suits asking for the closing of that many saloons, now running wide open in the borough of Manhattan."

"This is the first of the series of similar actions which will be commenced as rapidly as the clerks can get out the papers. The clerk of the district court can file them and the marshal shall serve them. Since the repeal of the Mullin-Gage act prohibition agents have been making a survey of all the places in which arrests have been made since the Volstead act went into effect."

In describing the scope of the latest dry offensive, Mr. Haywood said he had locality cards indexed of some 1,000 open saloons. "These saloons are of the hold type. Drinks are sold quite openly. Ten cents for near beer, 25 cents for real beer and 25 to 50 cents for what passes as whiskey."

KILLED HIS BROTHER
AND MARRIED WIDOWPair Is Expected to Get

IN COTTON FIELDLove Rogers Is Facing Jury Indictment in Coffee County

(Associated Press.)

DOUGLAS, Ga., Oct. 18.—Love S. Rogers, a farmer and his brother's widow, Mrs. Alton Rogers, were scheduled to arrive today from Avon Park, Fla., where Mrs. Rogers yesterday confessed, officers said, that Love killed his brother, Alton, to protect her from her husband's wrath, burying the body in a cotton field and later leaving here with Mrs. Rogers, after which they were married, but at what place, she told officers, she could not remember.

Love Rogers has been indicted on a charge of murder by the Coffee County grand jury. His trial date probably will be set upon his arrival here. The Coffee County grand jury took action following a report made to Sheriff Tanner that Love had admitted the killing to friends, telling that after he had shot his brother to death, he stripped the body of its clothing, dragged it out of the house and buried it in a cotton field.

The body was found by the sheriff, "wrapped in an old quilt." According to the sheriff the killing took place on the night of November 18, 1923. Love Rogers, officers said, reported his brother had disappeared from home and nothing was suspected of his brother had disappeared from home and nothing was suspected. Rogers and his brother's widow left here several months ago, going to Florida where he is said to have told a friend about the death.

Almost daily the brother ploughed in the field where his brother's body was buried. During the spring he ploughed the field and planted his cotton in evenly made rows, with exception of two. They were located near the house. Officers said these rows were wider apart and aided them in locating the body recently.

It is requested that any of the singers who cannot come to the rehearsal this evening at the Central Baptist church, will meet the choir at the theater Sunday afternoon and assist in making the entertainment a success.

It is expected that a formal organization of the choir will be effected this evening and a large number of charter members are expected, it was stated by B. B. Pickens, one of the active members of the choir.

The Central Baptist church will hold a social and business meeting at the Colonial building next Tuesday night, October 23, when the special committee of the women of the church will give a banquet to all the men and boys of the church, it was announced this morning by T. E. Williams, one of the members of the committee on arrangements.

The concern to have a get-together meeting of the entire male membership in an informal way has been growing in this church ever since the Ham-Ramsay revival meetings, when over fifty new members were received into the Central Baptist church.

Following the banquet, which is to be an elaborate one, judging from the preparations being made, the social and business meeting will be entered into.

It is understood the special committee of women of the church are members of the Woman's missionary union. In addition to the dinner the ladies will furnish a special musical program under the direction of Mrs. Seneca Burr and Mrs. D. D. Gibson.

The men's committee of the church which is assisting the women with the night's entertainment is composed of the following:

D. D. Gibson, J. P. Matlock, Rev. W. P. Reeves and T. E. Williams.
The program is as follows:

1. Talk by toastmaster.
2. Every man to stand to his feet, give name address, everyday occupation, and position if any in the church.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 18.—Atlantic City's annual beauty contest has drawn the fire of the New Jersey Presbyterians. It was written by members of the First Presbyterian church of Haddon-Heights.

Duke of Manchester Is Held For Debt

Duke of Manchester

William Angus Drago Montague, Duke of Manchester, has been held in Montreal, Can., on a writ prohibiting him from leaving the country until he settles a board bill of $1,438 owed to the Hotel Mount Royal. The hotel took the action when it was reported he intended sailing for England. The Duke's mother was the beautiful Consuela de Valle, of Ravensworth, La., and his wife was Miss Helen Zimmerman, of Cincinnati.

VALLEY LANDS ARE PRAISED BY VISITOR

W. C. Swallow, of Sumpter County, and Montgomery, an Illinois farmer transplanted to the South, is in Morgan County making examinations of farm lands for a large land bank in Montgomery, but first and foremost the visitor is a farmer.

Mr. Swallow was asked the direct question: "Is it a fact, as has been so often stated of late, that Tennessee Valley lands are as good as the northern and western lands?"

He replied "They certainly are. I know that Tennessee Valley lands are suitable for many kinds of crops. And besides I have farmed in Mississippi, and found the soil responsive to good treatment."

"You might be interested to know that although born and trained in Illinois, that in 1917, I raised 475 bales of cotton in the Delta on 500 acres of land."

The Montgomery Advertiser of last Sunday showed Mr. Swallow to be a stock farmer in Sumpter county and that paper carried a picture of his prize winning Hereford steer, which at 15 months of age weighed 1175 pounds.

Must Have Faith
It was explained by the visitor that faith in each other's ability, faith in the farmers of Morgan County, and faith in the business people of the county must be the basis of success.

After that Mr. Swallow said diversified farming should be taken up with a vim. He declared that while he had nothing to take back about the potential value of Tennessee Valley soil, that "it had been robbed and abused by the one crop system."

The need and absolute necessity of changes in the crops grown on a farm was impressed.

A permanent pasture of Bernula grass, of white clover and similar grasses was recommended. "Black Medick" an early maturing grass was also recommended. The need of legumes to put humus and nitrogen in the soil was spoken of as absolutely necessary. As large a herd of cattle was recommended so as to furnish the farms with stable manure.

Mr. Swallow said in speaking of the control of the boll weevil, that he welcomed any and all reasonable methods. He recommended "one plow for every 8 or 10 acres of cotton" as one practical method of taking care of the weevil, and still raising some cotton as a fall money crop was encouraged, but it was impressed that other things aside from the fleecy staple must be raised on the farm of the future, or else it would not have any future.

Private CarMANY CHANGES
SEEN IN SOUTHFarm Conditions Much Better Now Than 25
Years Ago

"We feel optimistic regarding the South" said H. H. Vance, General Superintendent, following an interview he gave concerning changes in the South within the last 25 years on his private car at the union depot this morning.

Mr. Vance's headquarters are in Birmingham and he has jurisdiction over all the Southern divisions of his railway. With L. H. Woodall, who is Superintendent of the Sheffield division of the Southern Railway, Mr. Vance is making an inspection trip. Both officials left for the Twin-Cities at 11:30 o'clock.

Mr. Vance said his knowledge of Southern conditions, industrially and agriculturally speaking was only general in character, such officials as Earl Turner, who spoke here recently, were in charge of the farm and industrial development work of the Southern Railway, but that he could not help noticing what a revolution had taken place in the South in the last 25 years. Mr. Vance said that instead of just a farming section, with a few cities here and there with a few small industries, the South had become an industrial empire. He said that instead of Southern farmers raising cotton as their main crop and their only money crop, they were now using their farms for the production of everything that can be grown on a farm.

Mr. Vance's attention was called to the recent report of President Fairbank Harrison of the Southern Railway, and he said he had read the report with much interest.

RED X ROLL CALL

Judge Thomas W. Wert, who has been appointed as Morgan County chairman for the Red Cross annual roll call, received this morning a large shipment of supplies for use in the coming campaign.

The exact date for the opening of the subscription books, has not yet been set, but it is expected that by mistake date, November 11, the roll call will be completed with all old members renewing and many new members joining the ranks.

Judge Wert has the small button hole Red Cross emblems, the large red crosses for the windows of residences, many subscription blanks some attractive posters and other matter calling attention to the importance of the Red Cross work. Judge Wert stated he hoped to have some large advertisements in The Daily during the Roll Call week.

KLAN OFFICIAL TO BE TRIED IN COURT

(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18.—Dr. Caleb Ridley, imperial Kludd of the Ku Klux Klan, and former pastor of the Central Baptist church of Atlanta, was reported as "too ill" by his attorneys to appear at police court this morning to face charges of "drunk and operating an automobile."

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18.—The Rev. Caleb Ridley, known as Imperial Kludd of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, was scheduled to appear in police court here today to answer the charges of being drunk and operating an automobile while intoxicated, following his arrest yesterday.

After spending several hours in a police station cell, the imperial Kludd was released on bond of $500. Motorcycle Officer L. E. Shumate arrested the Klansman after he said he noticed the minister's automobile signifying on Peachtree street one of the main thoroughfares of the city. The officer halted the machine and placed Mr. Ridley under arrest. The officer said the minister apparently was under the influence of whiskey and said he found two small bottles, containing liquor, in the machine.

Mr. Ridley faced a desk sergeant who ordered him locked up in default of bond. After several hours behind the bars, during which time a fellow a noose of his wife's apron, the minister was allowed bail.

GIRLS

A Danish physical culture expert says that American girls sit around the house too much;
they eat too much candy and slouch along in slinky gowns.

We hope that the Danish gentleman will visit our country clubs; hope that he will get out on the golf course and see the American woman swing her clubs; that he will read the accounts of the woman's golf championship. He might drop into many a business office in any large city and see the women whose brain cells are functioning as reliably as the athletic girl's muscles. The Girl Scouts will teach him something, too. Every school filled with healthy and normal boys and girls will be proof of the morality of the American homes they are part of.

A walk up Fifth Avenue or along Broadway after the matinee will not show him the real American woman. It will only confirm his opinion about the slouch in the slinky gowns, and a visit to the Broadway cabarets will only show him our exotics. The minority is not always right, as Ibsen once proclaimed, but it is frequently so noisy that it can drown out the majority.—Albany

SOUTHERN MASONS SEND GREETINGS
AND DISPENSE WITH HAND-SHAKE

In a praiseworthy effort to relieve President Coolidge of unnecessary burdens the Southern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masons at their recent meeting in Washington, instead of gathering at the White House and greeting the chief executive personally, voted to extend to Mr.
Coolidge their loyal support and good will in an official letter. The action of the Masons was one of thoughtfulness and kindness—just the thing to be expected of Southern gentlemen.

The recent protests against the public demanding so much time and attention from the President, doubtless had some weight with the Masons when they made their decision. It will be recalled that following the death of President Harding a great deal was written to show that M.

Harding's untimely death was in all probability brought about because of the heavy demands made upon him by the general public. It was pointed out by the press from one side of the country to the other, that the way a President was treated by great crowds of people worked a great hardship upon him. Calculations were made as to the amount of energy it takes to grasp the hand of thousands of people every few days, to say nothing of the extra exertion it requires to look pleasant and to make some pleasant remark. It was also noted in the public press that the ordinary duties of a President, in recent years were enough to ruin the health of the strongest man.

It is reported by those who have stood in line for hours to shake the hand of a Chief Executive that the performance was not worth the extra time and effort; but if the individuals in a crowd find a mere handshake bought at too high a price, when long waiting and crowding is necessary for its accomplishment, how much more does a lone President "pay too dearly for the whistle" when he stands for hours and shakes
the hands of strangers.

It might be pointed out that some danger attaches to a President shaking hands with any and everybody, as there are sure to be a few unbalanced people in almost every large crowd.
Both Roosevelt and McKinley were attacked by cranks, when those Presidents were extending the hand of friendship.

But leaving on one side the element of danger to Presidents from promiscuous handshaking, the physical exertion involved in one man shaking the hand of thousands, or even hundreds, of people is too great. The Southern Masons did well to spare the President the ordeal of much handshaking.

FORMER SENATOR BURTON
FAVORS WORLD COURT

The world court should be entered by the United States is the expressed opinion of former United States Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, than whom republicanism has not produced a finer man in recent years. Mr. Burton has ever been counted among the really able non-political leaders of his party. The fact he has espoused the cause of the world court is proof positive that the former Ohio senator is not a politician.
Burton's stand will doubtless come as a gentle reminder to President Coolidge—if he cares to think of such matters—that one of the promises of the former Vice President who he succeeded Mr. Harding, was to carry out the Harding policies, and that one of the last wishes of Mr. Harding was that this country would enter the world court.

It is not at all probable Mr. Burton will make any special efforts to get his views as to the world court accepted by the leaders of the republican party, it is not like Mr. Burton to insist on a hearing, and besides he is regarded as definitely out of national politics. Mr. Burton has lately spent four months in Europe. He is in a position to express an opinion as to the situation in Europe and knows the needs of Europe and the world at large as well or better than any of the republicans. The distinguished Ohioan has this to say relative to the world court:

"I look on the world court as an entering wedge, and one of the best hopes for a peaceful settlement, with justice between the nations. The use of the court's jurisdiction will at first be limited. It will increase, however, and eventually, I believe, occupy in the world a position similar to that of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"It will be a purely judicial body in which America should be well represented. The League of Nations, on the other hand, is a political organization. Our attitude toward it should be that, although we are not in it, we should like to see it successful. Europe,
I know, wants the United States to be a partisan, not to act as a judge."

Whether Senator Burton gets his views adopted or not, it is significant that one of the outstanding republican leaders favors the world court.
More important than that Mr. Burton favors the world court, is the fact he evidently favors this country's accepting world responsibilities. Men like Burton see the absurdity of the United States posing as a great world power, and yet refusing to assume the duties and responsibilities of a world power. All along the world court has been able to draw to its support the really able men of both the republicans and democratic factions.

Morgan County High on Edge For the Meeting Saturday With Central Here

Morgan County high school at Hartsville is working feverishly for the meeting Saturday afternoon with Central high school here. With both teams filled more or less with the belief that the success or failure of their 1923 season will be hanging in the balance when they face each other Saturday, fans are on tiptoe in anticipation of the hardest fought gridiron duel the local schedule calls for.

Reports received from Hartsville tell of long practice sessions and declare the county team is determined to give its all in the effort to keep clean the slate for never has a local team defeated the county eleven on a football field. Central realizes fully that if her championship hopes are to be kept in fact, it will be necessary to break that precedent.

The transfer of the game from Friday to Saturday, done at Hartsville's request, has rebounded to Central's favor. After Monday's drill period, Sewell, Shelton, Andy Handy and Johnston were put on the ailing list.
The extra day will give them additional time to get back in shape. The magic of healing verbs will have them on edge by Saturday, it is believed.

The rain halted field practice yesterday and Coach Duyck put in the time with blackboard drill.

An indication of the record Cen-

Were you told you had "Sciatic Rheumatism?" And did treat-aches and pains there yet?

"Sciatica"

Is an inflammation of the sheath of the sciatic nerve, caused by pressure in the spine. This pressure causes a dull ache and often severe pain in the back and hips, extending down the back of the thighs. It usually affects only one side at a time. If neglected, it often results in a partial paralysis of the limb.

Consultation Is Without Cost

This affection yields rapidly to Chiropractic. Why? Because the Chiropractor finds the cause and adjusts it. In-

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or heating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

Merry War Powdered Lye comes in a convenient can with revolving sifting top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, recloses tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"

Roland Schneider.

When "Queenie," a collie, was run over in Chicago by an automobile, a policeman was called to shoot her. But Roland Schneider, four years old, who owned "Queenie," begged so hard for the animal's life, because she was "a mamma dog," a kindly veterinary surgeon set the dog's leg in splints. But there were more serious injuries, and "Queenie" died. When a photographer arrived, Roland sat in the back yard of his home, with a basketful of puppies whose eyes were not even open, and murmured through his tears: "I gotta do somethin'!"

SODATOL

By J. C. FORD
County Farm Agent

There is a question in the minds of the farmers of this county as to what this new explosive is and how it is used. Sodatal, as it is called, is a mixture of sodium nitrate and TNT and is put up in cartridges similar to dynamite. Each cartridge weighs seven pounds and there are 120 cartridges to a fifty-pound box of Sodatal.

Sodatal is handled similar to dynamite and has one very desirable advantage over dynamite as it causes no headaches or stains the hands when handling. It is detonated with No. 6 caps and fuse or with electric squib. The No. 6 caps are furnished free with each order of Sodatal at the rate of one cap per pound of explosive.

Any person who has ever handled or has been around where dynamite was handled can handle sodatal. It costs about one-third the price of dynamite. Seen your County Agent J. C. Ford, for further particulars.

How Dicky Had Come to Grief While Dressing.

I RUSHED into the bedroom to find chaos where I had left order, with Dicky nursing a cut finger and uttering picturesque oburgations. The dainty dresser cover was half on, half off the bureau. It was soaked with toilet water, smeared with cold cream and face powder, and on the floor I saw with dismay the broken fragments of cut glass and china.

I love dainty things about me, and at home where Dicky and I have our own rooms, my dressing table is fitted up with exquisite receptacles for the various toilet articles, most of which have been gifts to me. Because of our cramped quarters in the city, Dicky and I are compelled to share the single bureau, something we both detest, and I have kept all my dainty things in my fitted bag, and put on the bureau only the plainest and most serviceable of dresser scarfs in obedience to his preferences. But because of our expected guests, I had pushed Dicky's things back as much as I dared, and doctored the dresser top bravely. Any housewife who prizes her possessions knows how near I was to angry, rebellious tears. But even as I grasped at the dresser scarf to keep the pitiful remnants of my treasures from sliding to the floor, I forced my lips to a dutiful question.

"Shall I get gauze and water for your finger?"

Dicky forcibly consigned the finger to a distant and unpleasant place.

"In the name of the Great Horned Toad," he shouted angrily, "what's the big idea of cluttering this place up with all these glasscracks? I can't find a thing of mine, and when I finally located my collar box, and pulled it over here, it stuck and the whole mess came down. Look at me! The trousers will have to go to the tailor pronto!"

A Trying Moment.

I had been only angry and chagrined before, but a note of bitterness entered my feeling at this point. He knew how I prized my dresser ornaments, he knew also how I worked to make the apartment attractive for the coming of the guests, but he had uttered no word of regret for the damage he had done. There had been nothing but concern for his own clothing, and concern for me. And I knew as well as if I had been standing next to him, that the whole thing was the result of his own carelessness. I could not restrain the impatience with which he had jerked the collar box toward him.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl almost nineteen years of age and have been going with a young man one year my senior for several months.

The other night I had an engagement with him and he did not come.

The next day he got another young man to call me up and tell me a story about why he could not come. It was all made up, for I have heard since that he went to see another girl that night.

I cannot understand it, for he has been coming to see me often and told me I was the only girl he loved.

He has not phoned me to explain or apologize. He has acted very queer, and I am surprised at him.

I thought I loved him, but do you think that a young man who has acted as he has is worth worrying about?

Would you even speak to him? I haven't done a thing to make him angry, so I know that is not the reason for his actions.

I believe he has made me lose faith in all men. Please advise me what to do, BOBBED HAIR.

BOBBED HAIR: Forget the incident, and find enjoyment in the friendship of other young men. Wait for this young man to regain your friendship, as perhaps he will, and do not refuse to grant it if you see he earnestly wishes it. Do not admit to him that you know he deceived you, but you realize now that his friendship is not to be valued as highly as once you thought.

One man should not influence you in your attitude toward all my dear.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I met a young man at a party and later it dawned upon me that I loved him very much. This young man has no idea of this. How can I make it known to him? I cannot ask him to my home as I haven't any, and I very seldom see him. How can I get to know him better? PERPLEXED.

PERPLEXED: It would be most unwise to make your love for this young man known to him.

As a matter of fact, you could not possibly love him after having met him but once.

Perhaps one of your friends will be kind enough to arrange a meeting between this young man and you at her home. After that meeting let the young man take the initiative, my dear. Men lose interest in a girl who is too forward.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her in care of this office.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women

By MARK STUYVESANT

A Daughter of Corsica Who Was Mother of an Emperor.

TWO centuries ago the women of the people were ambitious as they are to-day. Frayed ends of events long past tell of the longing for achievement that burned in the hearts of those women whose names never survived the years.

Yet their sphere of activity was so circumscribed that almost never was one of their number able to rise above the others excepting through pure accident of fate—that of becoming the mother of a spectacular son.

Thus it is only because of her motherhood that the name of Letitia Ramolino, the marvelously beautiful daughter of a neither wealthy nor noble family of Corsica, is known and held in the light of romance to-day.

Letitia Ramolino became the mother of the great Napoleon Bonaparte, and through his achievement she later became the famous MARY OF PARIS, after the French Empire was established.

It was in the tiny town of her birth, when she was a girl of fifteen, that Letitia met the son of an influential family, Charles Marie de Bonaparte. He was eighteen and descendant of a family that had every right to place the "de" before its name, since an ancient title of nobility from the Genoese Republic had been granted the father of Charles.

The young man was a student of law at the University of Pisa. But it was not until some years after his marriage to the lovely Letitia that he was graduated with a doctor's degree—in 1789 to be exact.

As the years wore along, he turned out to be a somewhat indolent Italian gentleman who preferred to sit with his favorite books rather than try, rather than to make any sort of attempt at bettering the family fortunes.

But what he lacked in ambition was more than made up in the person of his wife. Thirteen children came to her, eight of whom grew to maturity.

Joseph, who was made king of Naples by his illustrious brother, and then of Spain, was her eldest; then after the great Napoleon came Lucien; Elizabeth, the Princess of Elba; Pauline, married first to

General Leclerc and afterwards to Prince Borghese; Caroline, queen of Naples, married to Murat, Louis king of Holland; Jerome, king of Westphalia.

Napoleon at the age of ten years entered a military school at Brienne. From that time on the boy's education was entirely military. He could scarcely remember a time when he was not a soldier living among soldiers. In 1785 Madame rejected over the commission of lieutenant bestowed upon her son. Four years later his active life with the Revolution which was to change the course of history began.

Despite the position of her son, however, Madame Bonaparte cared little for display, and her frugal style of living frequently displeased Napoleon.

After the battle of Waterloo she took up her abode in Rome, where she continued to reside until her death in 1836.

General Leclerc and afterwards to Prince Borghese; Caroline, queen of Naples, married to Murat, Louis king of Holland; Jerome, king of Westphalia.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

By WANDA BARTON

Antiques That Are Much in Demand.

THERE is an artistic streak in almost all people. In some people it takes the form of collecting certain things that interest them. No two people seem to care keenly about the same thing, and the ambition of each is to make her collection the largest and most complete possible. One woman made a collection of tapestries. According to the last reports, she had three hundred and seventy of them and was still going strong.

One man made a collection of buttons and had hundreds with no duplicates among them. Another woman has a whole array of bedspreads and quilts that are priceless. The very style of their work is no longer known in this generation.

Another enthusiast has a wonderful collection of boomerangs, or throwsticks, and so it goes. Collectors are rarely turned aside from what they wish to collect.

Just now there is a fad for old bottles, not the sort the rag man buys, though many are found in junk shops of the old-fashioned accumulative sort where the stock is not changed very frequently. To most of us bottles are bottles, valuable only as their contents happen to be desirable. But to the collectors there are a few bottles worth while, and they are snapped up and paid for with prohibitive prices wherever they are found.

The so-called Jenny Lind bottle is one that is much sought after. It is a bottle of common glass, of the flask-shaped type, but with the bust of the one-time famous singer blown on one side and her name in large letters underneath. On the other side there may be a repetition of the bust or a single flower or medallion.

Then there is the George Washington bottle with the bust and name on one side and a medallion on the other. There are bottles of the seasons, a winter snow laden tree on one side and a summer tree in blossom on the other. Spring and Fall are not represented probably because of lack of flat space as the sides are rounded.

There are juglike bottles made of some famous figures, like the Toby jugs of England. These are very scarce and sell at most astonishing prices.

Ben Franklin bottles and some bearing the busts of early presidents seem to have been in more general use, for they are not as scarce nor as expensive. Perhaps they were in demand in their day.

When the bottles are captured, soaked, scrubbed and polished to bring out the decoration they are given a prominent place in the parlor or living room, on Dutch shelf or cabinet, and are filled with clear water and hold a single rose or other flower. The Pennsylvania Dutch regions seem to have gathered more bottles than any other district and therefore this is good hunting-ground for collectors.

Another rarity that seems to have many admirers is the old candle-mould. The holes at the bottom are soldered up and the mould after being cleansed is painted to match the room where it is to be used, or in polychrome effect, and it is then used to hold four single blossoms. In many cases it is used to hold four candles. They are rather close together, but they are quaint looking. If the mould is to be used as a candle-stick, however it is a good plan to weight it by soldering in a lead weight at the bottom. Then it will not tip over so easily.

Old-time rush bottomed chairs are collectors' legitimate prey, and besides being comfortable they are a great addition to a room when attractively painted. In painting them there can be no doubt that the women were a generation ago. There can be no doubt that they are healthier as a result.

Anyway, if chlorosis is disappearing we will rejoice. It is due every young woman that she have health and vigor. In early womanhood especially there should be preparation for motherhood and the responsibilities of the home.

Answers to Health Questions.

M. L. Q.—Kindly inform me how I can break myself of the habit of eating sweets.

A.—To overcome this habit you must use your will power. Try to eat sweets each day, and in this way it will be easier to stop.

B. D. C. Q.—Will you kindly tell me if a milk diet will increase my weight, and what amount I should take?

A.—Take 1 to 2 quarts of milk

daily in addition to your regular diet. A milk diet alone is not sufficient nourishment for you.

MRS. J. R. Q.—I have a lump, as large as an egg, on my shoulder blade. Will you please tell me what this is, and what treatment is best for it?

A.—This is probably a fatty tumor. Consult a surgeon, or apply at a hospital clinic and have it removed.

M. A. C. Q. 1 and 2.—Kindly advise me what—

3.—What is good for chapped lips?

4.—How can I make my eyelashes grow?

5.—What causes my hands and feet to perspire and become numb?

A. 1 and 2.—Kindly send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars, and restate your question.

3.—Cold cream applied to the lips before going out will help this condition.

4.—Apply yellow oxide of mercury ointment, 1 per cent, to the eyelashes at night before retiring. This will help to improve the growth.

5.—This may be due to neuritis. You should have a thorough physical examination to find the underlying cause, and then suitable treatment can be outlined.

R. B. O. Q.—How can marks left by pimples be removed from the face?

A.—Gentle massage with cocoa butter may obliterate small indentations, but if they are deep nothing can be done.

B. M. D. Q.—My daughter has swollen and inflamed eyelids. Will you kindly advise me what should be done in this condition?

A.—Your daughter should bathe her eyes several times a day with a warm solution of boracic acid, and at night before retiring apply 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment to the eyelids.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it cannot be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. YOUR HEALTH

Why the Anemia of Young Women Is Disappearing

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

THERE can be no better news than to learn that some serious disease is losing its virulence and rapidly disappearing. Perhaps the cheering news relating to diabetes is the most encouraging thing medicine has produced in recent years. But now there is more good news. It is said that chlorosis, the anemia of young women, is rapidly subsiding.

This disease is a peculiar one. The victim loses her normal, healthy complexion, and the skin becomes greenish in color and like wax.

It is a condition which is confined largely to girls and young women. The age group from fifteen to twenty-one years is the one most susceptible.

In spite of the anemia, the plumpness and red cheeks may prove deceptive. There are difficult breathing, languor and sometimes heart murmurs.

Chlorosis is such an obscure and, indeed, mysterious disease that many theories have been advanced as to its actual cause. It has been thought by many to be associated with the changes incident to puberty. This would indicate that the demands for the blood have robbed the tissues of their necessary supply.

Many have advocated the idea that constipation and the absorption of the fecal poisons may produce the peculiar changes of the disease.

It used to be a very common ailment both in America and abroad. But the latest reports indicate that in every country it is disappearing.

In a report which is put out by Guy's Hospital, London, an effort is made to explain why chlorosis is on the decline. The chief reason seems to be that the increased amount of exercise and fresh air enjoyed by young women of this period has guarded them against the ailment.

All the evidence indicates that the general health of women throughout the world has been and is getting better. This improvement appears to be associated with better living conditions.

It seems not so much a matter of better feeding as it is the greater physical activity of modern women. There can be no doubt that women are more athletic now. They wear clothing better suited to free movement of all the muscles. They walk and run, indulge in out-of-door sports, and are less pampered than women were a generation ago.

There can be no doubt that they are healthier as a result. Anyway, if chlorosis is disappearing we will rejoice. It is due every young woman that she have health and vigor. In early womanhood especially there should be preparation for motherhood and the responsibilities of the home.

Answers to Health Questions.

M. L. Q.—Kindly inform me how I can break myself of the habit of eating sweets.

A.—To overcome this habit you must use your will power. Try to eat sweets each day, and in this way it will be easier to stop.

B. D. C. Q.—Will you kindly tell me if a milk diet will increase my weight, and what amount I should take?

A.—Take 1 to 2 quarts of milk

daily in addition to your regular diet. A milk diet alone is not sufficient nourishment for you.

MRS. J. R. Q.—I have a lump, as large as an egg, on my shoulder blade. Will you please tell me what this is, and what treatment is best for it?

A.—This is probably a fatty tumor. Consult a surgeon, or apply at a hospital clinic and have it removed.

M. A. C. Q. 1 and 2.—Kindly advise me what—

3.—What is good for chapped lips?

4.—How can I make my eyelashes grow?

5.—What causes my hands and feet to perspire and become numb?

A. 1 and 2.—Kindly send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars, and restate your question.

3.—Cold cream applied to the lips before going out will help this condition.

4.—Apply yellow oxide of mercury ointment, 1 per cent, to the eyelashes at night before retiring. This will help to improve the growth.

5.—This may be due to neuritis. You should have a thorough physical examination to find the underlying cause, and then suitable treatment can be outlined.

R. B. O. Q.—How can marks left by pimples be removed from the face?

A.—Gentle massage with cocoa butter may obliterate small indentations, but if they are deep nothing can be done.

B. M. D. Q.—My daughter has swollen and inflamed eyelids. Will you kindly advise me what should be done in this condition?

A.—Your daughter should bathe her eyes several times a day with a warm solution of boracic acid, and at night before retiring apply 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment to the eyelids.

Diary of a Fashion Model

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

She Picks Out a Three-Quarter Length Coat for General Wear.

THERE'S nothing in the world that gives so much satisfaction as a good-looking coat," Pam announced when she came in after luncheon to-day.

"What put that thought into your head at this particular time?" I asked.

"I've been looking at coats with Gaby," she informed me.

"Is Gaby buying a coat?" I asked.

"Yes, and it seems to me her last Winter's coat is perfectly good," Pam said. "But she says she feels the need of another. Her idea was to look and look until she saw one she just couldn't do without."

"Sounds as if she had taken you touring all over the city," I remarked.

"She just about did," Pam admitted.

"Well, you should be in a position to give me all the information I want on the subject of coats," I said.

"I can qualify," Pam admitted. "What do you want to know?"

"Well, what length did you see most often?" I asked.

"I've been hearing different reports from different sources," I continued. "And I want to know what lengths the majority of good shops are sponsoring."

"Three-quarter length," Pam answered promptly.

"Do you like those better than long ones?" I asked.

"Yes, I did on Gaby," she answered. "I helped her select a stunning three-quarter coat."

"What color?" I asked.

"Four-inch stripes alternating brick color and brown," she told me.

"Stripes going around or up and down?" I asked.

"Up and down," Pam replied. "There were many coats with horizontal stripes, but I think they are trying unless the wearer is even taller than Gaby."

"Hers sounds like a model for general wear," I remarked.

"It is," Pam replied. "She wanted it to wear over all kinds of street frocks and sports things, Four-Inch Stripes of Brick Color and Brown Alternate in This Three-Quarter Length Coat.

"She probably had foot-ball games in mind, too," I said.

"Knowing what a fiend Gaby is on the subject, you can be sure she thought of that," Pam replied,

"There was a lovely dress coat I saw that I should have liked for myself," she continued.

"What kind?" I asked.

"It was full length, and made of soft black satin embroidered all over in discs that combined silver and green," Pam said.

"Couldn't you meet the price?" I asked.

"Well, the collar was sable, and the clasp that fastened the coat was silver and jade, so you can guess that the price was a bit beyond my ability," she answered.

"There was a ducky little short coat of velvet that fitted narrow about the shoulders and flared out about the hips," she added. "But it was too extreme."

"You've mentioned at least three lengths," I said. "Are all three of these really good?"

"Yes, but stick to the three-quarter or long," she advised wisely.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19

Most propitious and gratifying circumstances are the presage based on this day's lunar transits. Those in the employment of others are under excellent augury for promotion or preferment and all others may work for recognition from superiors if undeniably deserving. Business, generally, may be under a splendid aspect for substantial and steady growth, but it may be well to shun all speculation or risk of money. Letters and contracts should be signed with discrimination.

Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of a year with increase of business and money, provided they do not rashly risk the latter. Those in the employment of others are urged to work hard for promotion, or the favor of their employers.

A child born on this day will be steady, industrious and ambitious, and will rise in life through its own application and perseverance.

Facts about Child-birth

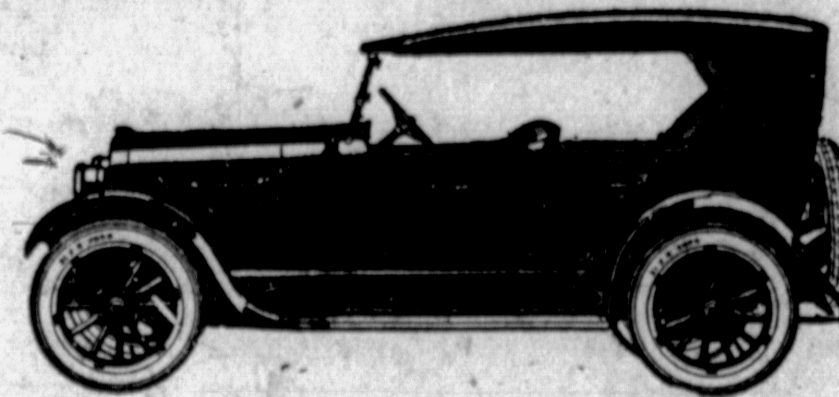

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which many mothers experience for months, right up to the moment when the little one arrives! Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

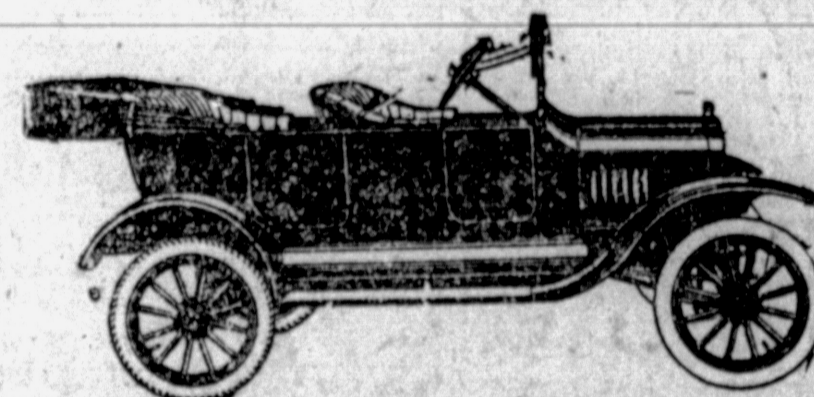

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and—meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., P. O. Box 72, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all good druggists.

Why "Laundered" Shirts Last so Much Longer

No doubt you have often wondered why a laundered shirt wears so much longer; why it keeps so crispy clean.

This is the reason—in laundering these shirts our scientific process fills the pores of the fabric, and presses the fibres closely together, imparting fine, smooth, soil-resisting finish.

We leave no soft, spongy surface to attract and hold dust and dirt; no loose threads to roughen and tear.

As a result, each shirt stays clean longer; each shirt gives you more service—you feel better and look better in shirts which we have laundered.

Give this modern shirt-saving and shirt-cleansing method a trial. Telephone and our driver will call for and deliver your bundle.

Your children's food

The foods your children eat today, determine their strength and health in later years.

Remember this; they must have well balanced meals. Their food should contain the right amount of mineral salts. These salts act as bone building material. They furnish the different fluids and juices that help keep the tissues young—the body strong and active.

Bakings that are made of good plain white flour and baking powder contain a large amount of mineral salts. Allow your children to eat hardy of these bakings together with fruits and dairy products. This forms an ideal food balance.

When making quick rising breads and pastries such as: biscuits, muffins, cakes, waffles, etc., don't fail to use Calumet—the economy Baking Powder. It contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—it's the purest and surest leavener made. That's why it helps make your flour foods light and easily digested.

Millions of mothers use Calumet daily because they are interested in their children's welfare—their present and future health.

A Perfect Skin

No blackheads, no blemishes ever

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Mine is a perfect skin—a skin which young girls envy—at the age of 62. After 40 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19.

I owe all this to a rich, ambitious mother. She searched the world for methods to multiply my beauty and to keep her youth. Those helps made me a famous beauty, and they keep me a beauty still.

Now I have arranged so every girl and woman may have those identical helps. Thus I hope to bring to millions the benefits I got.

My Facial Youth

One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. So it cannot grow hair on any face. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin.

It simply cleanses the skin to the depths, penetrates every pore. When I wipe it off, all the dirt and grime, all that clogs the skin comes with it.

Clean the skin in the best other way you know. My Facial Youth will still remove much extra grime and refuse. I cover my body with Facial Youth before bathing. Thus I remove much clogging matter which water fails to get.

Apply Facial Youth night and morning, and whenever else the face needs cleaning. You will never find another way to keep the skin so clear.

One-fourth price

The greatest beauty experts now employ this liquid cleanser. Some apply it to dainty women; but at four times what I charge. No cleaning formula in existence can compare with this. And a clean skin is essential.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 75 cents per bottle. Also by Youth Cream—my fruitly cold cream. Also my White Youth Clay—the utmost in facial clay. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

I urge you to try Facial Youth. Learn what a really clean skin means. Let it do for you what it does for me. You will be amazed. Then, if you want my other helps, they are at your call. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.—Adv.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. Adv.

Origin of Crests.

The Carlians are credited as being the originators of crests. Richard I of England wore a crest on his helmet like a plume of feathers. In the fifteenth century the crest was described as a figure on a coronet.

Criminal Docket Set For Monday

The Morgan County court will open Monday morning for the hearing of criminal cases following adjournment late Wednesday evening after three days' trial on civil cases. Most of the civil cases had to do with disbursements over amounts due on notes and accounts coming due at this season of the year. It was stated at the court house that most of the criminal cases set for next week had to do with alleged violations of the prohibition law.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM TIGER

Hunter in India Shot Animal Through the Heart While Being Carried Into Jungle.

The most terrible experience I ever came across in India, reports W. A. Frymer, was that of a sahib whose name I have forgotten, though I remember the name of his associate, J. H. Powders.

This sahib was lying flat on a gravelly bar beside a salt lick, waiting for sambar (deer), when suddenly some terrific force hit him between the shoulders, driving his face into the gravel.

It was in the cold weather, so he was wearing an ulster, and now he was lifted by the something that gripped the coat across his shoulders and dragged along the bar. He could hear a purring, like the whirr of an electric fan. A ghastly smell of carnion was in his nostrils, and on either side of his head showed the yellow foam of a tiger.

He realized that as soon as they reached the jungle, 50 yards away, the tiger would make a meal of him. And how helpless he was!

Suddenly it flashed through his mind that he had a heavy revolver in his coat pocket. His arms were quite free, so he managed to get the pistol, cocked it and fired upward, trying for the tiger's heart.

At the pistol's report he was lifted bodily, whirled around and thrown several feet. They had reached the jungle, and six feet away the tiger was roaring, clawing up the earth and rolling over and over. The sahib crawled through the bushes and came out to the river, where he was seen by Powders. He was a wreck, naturally.

Next day they found the tiger dead, the big bullet having gone through his heart.—Saturday Evening Post.

ESKIMOS TAKE CARE OF OLD

Elders' Counsel Always Considered—Mutual Kindness the Rule in Arctic.

Old people are held in great respect among the Eskimos and their counsel is always considered. They help as fast as they are able in the household work, the old men repairing weapons, harness, etc., and the old women in sewing and tending the lamps. In times of scarcity, as in winter, meat and oil is always shared around.

Directly a seal or deer is brought in it is cut up and sent to each needy family. In times of plenty each family is supposed to provide for itself, but old people, widows and orphans have always the first claim upon those who have the means.

Among these people mutual kindness is a general obligation. A widow or orphan child is never left alone, but taken into the house and family circle of the nearest relative. The widow gives her services in return for food and lodging and clothing and the child is cared for exactly as the man's own offspring.—Detroit News.

Fooled the Dogs.

A dog recently entered a church in Aberdeen, Scotland, and after causing much commotion was summarily ejected by the minister. The canine intruder would have passed almost unobserved in many a Highland kirk half a century ago, when it was the general custom for the shepherds to take their faithful colliers with them to church.

In some districts, where the population was scanty, the congregation on Sunday mornings would frequently be made up half of humans and half of dogs. The canine auditors sat out the service with commendable patience until the announcement of the last psalm, when there was a general stretching and yawning preparatory to scampering out as soon as the benediction had been pronounced.

In one kirk the congregation determined that the service should close in more decorous fashion. When a strange minister officiated one Sunday he found all the folk sitting when he was about to pronounce the blessing, and paused for them to rise. "Say awa', sir," whispered one old shepherd near the pulpit, "we're a sitting to cheat the dogs."

Habit of the "Trader Rat."

The trader rat is the common wood rat, the bushy-tailed rat of western and northern America. This rat does make a practice of leaving something in place of food, etc., that it may have stolen. This is not an intelligent act on the part of the rat, however, but is due to the fact that the rat sees the food when it is carrying bits of sticks or paper in its mouth, which it generally drops when finding the food.

up to you, if you have the right stuff in you, and want to win, you are going ahead and getting subscriptions as fast as you can, and thereby laying up votes which will win one of the prizes on Nov. 17.

A young married woman walked into the campaign office yesterday and said, "I want to enter the Decatur Daily Automobile Campaign." She also said that she had been watching the paper since the contest was first announced and was satisfied that it was going to be fair and square, with the people who work hardest and turn in the most subscriptions would be the winners. She said further that she was going to buy them a home, and after she had the campaign and all its workings explained to her, she said, "Is that all? My, I thought it would be hard." And as she went out of the campaign office, she turned and said: "I have my house all picked out and it is just too pretty for anything." This young woman has the ambition and the determination to win and that goes a long way in winning a contest of this kind.

Tapioa From Poison Root.

Few people who enjoy tapioa pudding realize that they are eating a product of the poisonous cassava root. In its natural state this root is extremely bitter and harmful because of the hydrocyanic acid that it contains, but when heated it becomes palatable and its poisonous qualities are readily dissipated.—Popular Science Monthly.

Remember the Importance of a Hot Oven!

by Sweet Rose

ALWAYS have your oven good and hot when baking biscuits. Failure to "rise" properly is often due to a lack of the right amount of heat. The heat causes the tiny bubbles in the dough to expand and this action gives your biscuits their rising qualities which make for lightness.

Biscuits and pastries made from Sweet Rose Self-Rising Flour are always light and fluffy because just the exact amount of leavening needed to make them rise has been added to the flour. You are taking no chances with wrong mixing. There is no guess work.

If you follow just a few simple rules you cannot fail when you bake with Sweet Rose. The most important of these is to see that your oven is hot and to mix your dough properly. Sweet Rose with its good dependable quality will do the rest.
